YORK UNIVERSITY MOTION MEDIA STUDIO (MMS)

MMS is an inter-disciplinary studio space open to the pursuit of exploration and innovation with a special focus on film production, performance, immersive environments, and virtual production.

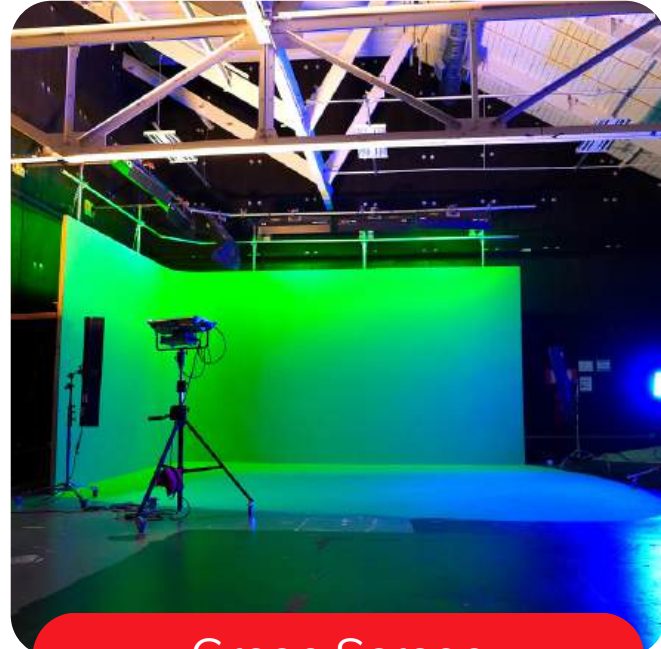

Located within Cinespace's expansive production complex, MMS students benefit from access to industry leaders and a network of support in the heart of a state-of-the-art facility where internationally acclaimed feature films and series are made such as: Chicago, Mean Girls, Resident Evil, Chucky, Law & Order, Titans, The Umbrella Academy, The Handmaid's Tale and Guillermo del Toro's The Shape of Water and Frankenstein.

We provide access to hands-on training via courses, micro-credentials, masterclasses, panels, workshops, and professional opportunities. We believe that inclusivity is the backbone of a healthy, thriving creative sector. The more diverse voices, experiences, and backgrounds represented in every aspect of the screen and media industries, the more it will flourish with cultural expression and sustainable employment for the foreseeable future.
